DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (e) the invention was described in-
- (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effect under this subsection of a national application published under section 122(b) only if the international application designating the United States was published under Article 21(2)(a) of such treaty in the English language; or
- (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that a patent shall not be deemed filed in the United States for the purposes of this subsection based on the filing of an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a).
- 2. Claims1-23, 25-33, 35-61 & 63-68 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being unpatentable by Ullman et al (U.S. 6,330,595).

As per claim 1-4,36 Ullman disclosed a procedure for using a time-dependent hyperlink in video, comprising the steps of: (a) associating content reference for at least one hyperlink with a video by associating the content reference with coordinates at which the hyperlink appears in the video, wherein one of the coordinates includes time (col. 3, lines 29-43); (b) transmitting the video from a first content server to a video browser of a user display (col. 4, lines 44-54); (c) selecting by the user a selected hyperlink in the video by selecting coordinates at which the selected hyperlink appears in the video (col. 3, lines 63-67 & col. 4, lines 1-2); (d) determining the content reference for a new session of the selected hyperlink based on the selected coordinates (col. 9, lines 60-65); (e) initiating a connection of the browser to the new session of the selected hyperlink(col. 7, lines 40-50); and (f) switching the connection of the browser from the first content server to the new session (col. 8, lines 59-67).

3. As per claim 5 Ullman disclosed wherein said step (d) comprises looking up the content reference in a database in the current content server based on the coordinates selected in said step

(c) (col. 7, lines 11-29), the database including the content reference cross-referenced with the coordinates at which the at least one hyperlink for the content reference appears in the video (col. 7, lines 40-51).

- 4. As per claim 6 Ullman disclosed further comprising the step of downloading a file from the current content server to the browser before performing said step (b) (col. 9, lines 45-53), the file containing a database including the content reference cross-referenced with the coordinates at which the at least one hyperlink for the content reference appears in the video and said step (d) comprises looking up the content reference in the downloaded file based on the coordinates selected in said step (c) (col. 6, lines 37-52).
- 5. As per claim 7,8,37,51,52 Ullman disclosed wherein said step (e) further comprises initiating at a call processing server a connection to the new session of the selected hyperlink (col. 5, lines 4-12), the call processing server being arranged between the current content server and the browser (col. 5, lines 48-52).
- 6. As per claim 9,10-13,26-28,39-41,54-56 Ullman disclosed further comprising the step of downloading the switchover application containing information on the at least one hyperlink in the video being transmitted in said step (b) (col. 8, lines 39-67).
- 7. As per claim 14,20,29,43,58,64 Ullman disclosed wherein the switchover application performs at least one of the following steps: downloading given contents at given points in time; playing contents at given points in time (col. 3, lines 50-56); checking content server availability; selecting from several content servers depending on server load status; requesting the current content server to prepare a content for transmission; requesting the current content server to start transmitting a prepared document; requesting the current content server to start transmitting content from a given displacement (col. 12, lines 1-22 & col. 13, lines 8-26); requesting a downloading of a new switchover application for the content referred to by a link (col.8, lines 44-54); establishing a new session to new content at given points in time; submitting received call processing language scripts to assist establishment of a new session (col. 5, lines 4-12); determining round trip delay between the browser and the content server of the selected hyperlink and adjusting switchover times on the determination (col. 6, lines 24-34 & lines 55-59); determining permanent terminal or terminal location specific implications to general session establishment time and adjusting switchover schedules based on the determination; A performing procedures needed to join a multicast session; reserving network resources for a new session under establishment or a link or data stream being resumed; freeing network resources for a new session being cleared or a link or data stream being paused; performing video/audio content switchover at a given point in time (col. 8, lines 44-67); comparing link descriptive information with user preference attributes and browser capabilities, in case of failure to satisfy the preference attributes; and cancelling the visualization of the link to the user in case of failure (col. 3, lines 50-67).

- 8. As per claim 15,21,30,33,44,59,65 Ullman disclosed wherein said step (f) comprises maintaining a session to the first content server and the switchover application performs the following steps: establishing a new session toward the content of the selected hyperlink at a given point in time; pausing the video/audio content stream of the original content at said step (f); resuming the video/audio content stream of the original content at switchover back to the original content; and releasing the new session toward the content of the selected hyperlink after switchover back to the original content (col 8, lines 44-67).
- 9. As per claim 16,22,31,45,60,66 Ullman disclosed wherein said step of resuming the video/audio content stream of the original content including resuming at the point in the original content at which the original content was paused (col. 9, lines 25-31).
- 10. As per claim 17,23,32,46,61,67 Ullman disclosed wherein the switchover application caches a history of switchover applications.
- 11. As per claim 18,42,57 Ullman disclosed wherein said steps (d), (e), and (f) are performed using a switchover application associated with the video in the first content server, said step of transmitting a link stream comprises transmitting a link stream including link selection and switchover preparation schedules, said switchover preparation schedules specified ascii tag notation such that said switchover application performs the step of interpreting said ascii tag notation (col. 6, lines 34-51).

- 12. As per claim 19,63 Ullman disclosed wherein said step (d) includes using an algorithm that determines the location of a hyperlink based on visual characteristics in the video (col. 7, lines 40-51).
- 13. As per claim 25 Ullman disclosed further comprising the step of downloading a switchover application to said call processing server or a service control means connected to said call processing server, said switchover application containing information on links in the video being transmitted in said step (b) (col. 7, lines 40-51).
- 14. As per claim 35 Ullman disclosed further comprising means for transmitting a link stream containing said content reference of said at least one hyperlink from said first content server to said browser on a first communication channel and transmitting said video from said first content server to said browser in parallel to said link stream on a second communication channel (col. 8, lines 19-37).
- 15. As per claim 38,53 Ullman disclosed wherein said content server comprises a switchover application for performing a smooth switchover and said means for performing a smooth switchover comprises a means for using said switchover application (col. 6, lines 37-48).
- 16. As per claim 47 Ullman disclosed wherein said content server further comprises a link database (col. 6, lines 55-62)
- 17. As per claim 48 Ullman disclosed further comprising means for downloading said link database to said browser (col. 6, lines 44-51).

18. As per claim 49 Ullman disclosed wherein said means for determining when said hyperlink is selected comprises means for querying said link database (col. 10, lines 46-54).

- 19. As per claim 50 Ullman disclosed further comprising a call processing server arranged between said browser and said first content server, said call processing server comprising said means for switching over a connection of said user input/output device from said first content server to said second content server (col. 8, lines 44-67).
- 20. As per claim 68 Ullman disclosed wherein a second content reference and a third content reference are both associated with said at least one hyperlink such that said means for switching over a connection further comprises means for switching over a connection of said browser from said second content reference to said third content reference of said at least one hyperlink after completion of said second content reference is completed (col. 8, lines 44-67).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 21. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 22. Claim 24,62 & 34 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ullman et al (U.S. 6,330,595) and in view of Malkin et al (U.S. 6,317,795).

As per claim 24,62 Ullman failed to disclose wherein said step (b) comprises transmitting the video from a current content server to a video browser of a user display via a media proxy controlled by a call processing server. In the same field of endeavor Malkin disclosed wherein said step (b) comprises transmitting the video from a current content server to a video browser of a user display via a media proxy controlled by a call processing server (col. 7, lines 16-20).

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have incorporated transmitting the video from a current content server to a video browser of a user display via a media proxy controlled by a call processing server as taught by Malkin in the procedure of Ullman to reduce latency and make the transmission of the video more error free.

As per claim 34 Ullman – Malkin disclosed a system for processing a time-dependent 23. hyperlink in a video, comprising: a first content server comprising a video; a user input/output device comprising a display for displaying the video and an input output device for selecting a position on said display (Ullman, col. 4, lines 42-54); a browser arranged for connecting said user input/output device to said first content server (Ullman, col. 7, lines 45-51); at least one hyperlink and content reference cross-referenced with coordinates indicating where the at least one hyperlink appears in the video stored in said first content server (Ullman, col. 9, lines 16-24), said coordinates including display position and time during the video (Malkin, col. 7, lines 39-44), and said content reference indicating a second content server comprising an electronic document to which the hyperlink is linked; means for determining when said hyperlink is selected by determining when coordinates at which the hyperlink appears in the video are selected; and means for switching over a connection of said browser from said first content server to said second content server for user access to said electronic document in said second content server when said means for determining determines that said hyperlink has been selected (Ullman, col. 10, lines 23-45 & col. 9, lines 9-24).

Applicant's arguments are as follows:

24. Applicant argued that prior art did not disclose that the switching over to the new session is only in response to the selection of coordinates video.

Art Unit: 2141

As per the argument Ullman disclosed the personal computer also receives the video program from the multi-channel cable and extracts the URLs, embedded in the vertical blanking interval of the video signal or directly transmitted over the internet. The client software extracts the URLs and retrieves the particular Web pages as described above. The Web pages are then synchronized with the particular video frames and presented to the user (col. 9, lines 9-16). For example, some one browsing the Internet may come upon a major television network's Web site. They scroll to an interesting story then click on an hyperlink to turn on the software which tunes the TV window to the network to enhance the information residing at the Web site (col. 9, lines 9-24).

25. Applicant argued that prior art did not disclose that the user selects hyperlinks from the coordinates of the video.

As per the argument Ullman disclosed the personal computer also receives the video program from the multi-channel cable and extracts the URLs, embedded in the vertical blanking interval of the video signal or directly transmitted over the internet. The client software extracts the URLs and retrieves the particular Web pages as described above (col. 9, lines 9-14).

26. Applicant argued that prior art did not disclose that the fuzz ball tracks or any other area of the video are hyperlinks which may be selected by a user to switch the browser connection.

As per the argument Malkin disclosed that those skilled in the art will also appreciate that although the control specification has been described as a separate stream or track, that there are various alternative ways to provide an object level control specification. For example each frame of a video can include a rich PICS label, such as the F-lable (394), to specify the necessary control information associated with that frame (col. 13, lines 9-15).

Applicant's arguments were not persuasive therefore the action is made Final.

Conclusion

27. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
